

HIDAYA INSTITUTE OF SCIENCE & TECHNOLOGY (HIST)

Headquartered in the Silicon Valley, Hidaya Foundation offers a unique program where students and graduates with limited financial resources in Pakistan are offered hands-on training opportunities to enhance their skills. This training allows them to compete for high paying positions in today's world-wide competitive IT job market. These hands-on classes are offered by Hidaya Institute of Science & Technology (www.histpk.org), a division of Hidaya Trust (www.hidayatrust.org), Hidaya Foundation's partner organization in Pakistan.

Students from rural areas, and those who are facing financial difficulties, are supported by stipends for their day-to-day living expenses and two or four month long internships are offered to them on free-tuition basis. Hundreds of students sign up each semester for these highly sought internships for Basic Computer Skills and Software Development Training classes.

Help give them the tools so they may stand on their feet, give them dignity, bridge the digital gap. Please donate.
